OUTLINES.

A heat wave of considerable intensity is now passing over the South and West with no prospect of cooler weather within the next few days, according to the Weather Bureau at Washing; there were two prostrations and one death in Savannah yesterday——Clarence Darrow for the defence in the Haywood case at Boise, Idaho, yesterday hurled bitter invective at Hawley, leading counsel for the State, and poured out his wrath upon Orchard upon whose evidence the prosecution seems to be strongly relying; during the argument, the lie passed between Darrow and Hawley; the case is drawing to a conclusion——The rate case imbroglio in North Carolina seems to be assuming a more serious aspect according to a dispatch from Asheville, though efforts to reconcile the two courts disputing over jurisdiction have not been relinquished——The hearing in the habeas corpus proceedings in behalf of the Rowland's at Raleigh, N. C., will conclude today; yesterday testimony was introduced to show that shortly before the death of Engineer Strange, Dr. Rowland had received a special order of a rare and very deadly drug from New York——The A. C. L. Surgeons in convention at Jamestown yesterday elected Dr. Pride Jones Thomas, of Wilmington, president and Wilmington and Jacksonville, Fla., had a warm fight for the next place of meeting; this was finally left to the executive committee——The second victim of the shooting by Frank Warren, a merchant in New York, died last night and Warren partially regained consciousness; two policemen have been suspended for inactivity in making the arrest of the man while he ran amuck in the streets of the city on Tuesday——The District Attorney's office is still investigating the alleged Armenian plot to blackmail and murder in New York; several prominent men assert that a black hand society has been exacting money from wealthy foreigners for some time and want a stop put to it immediately——New York markets: Money on call easier at 1 1-2 to 2 1-2 per cent., ruling rate 2, closing bid 1 1-2, offered at 2; flour steady with a fair demand; rye flour steady; wheat steady, No. 2 red 97 1-2 elevator, options three-quarters net higher; corn firm, No. 2 61 elevator; oats steady mixed 49; cotton closed quiet at 13.10; turpentine easy 58 1-2 to 59; rosin steady.

Instead of a recount for Mr. Hearst, it looks now as if it will be a no count. The fight is in the courts, you see.

A Paris paper says "the United States are a bombastic nation." Perhaps Russia is not on that paper's map.

"Back to the constitution," says Henry Watterson. But the trouble is that too many have already turned their backs on the constitution.

It used to be "Cocktail Charlie." But since he rescued that buxom waitress from a watery grave it will be "Fearless Fairbanks."

No, John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, was not born in North Carolina, nor of North Carolina parents. His pa and ma were natives of Sweden. But he is a good one.

The Atlanta Journal says: "Mr. Hearst's Independence League consists mainly of tired Democrats." We file a demurrer. It consists mainly of re-tired Democrats.

When they get to indicting railroad presidents for selling high-priced tickets by proxy, with a chance of thirty days on the dirt roads looming up, there'll be hot times, you bet.

Now that war has been declared on gutters on the sidewalks, it might be well to unearth the ordinance against signs extending across these same sidewalks. They obstruct the view up and down the principal streets and detract materially from the general appearance of the city. Many of them are dangerous, too, during the high winds that sometimes prevail.

Mrs. Carrie Nation having nominated Governor Glenn for the United States Senate, the Durham Herald remarks: "It is a well known fact that he is still anxious to be United States Senator and if the next Legislature should be composed of members, the majority of whom stand with the Governor on this question (State prohibition), a general election for the State will in all probability be called, or a State law passed without submitting the question to the people." To this the Charlotte Chronicle adds: "We believe that is about as true a political forecast as any we have yet seen."

Low One Way Rates Via Seaboard.

Effective July 1st, the Seaboard put on sale tickets to all points in North Carolina at 2 1-4 cents per mile and intra-State milage books for $22.50 good for names that appear on cover This book is also good over the N. & W. and A. & A. we-fri-sat.

CASE IS CONTINUED

State Not Ready For Trial of Lonnie Snipes in Superior Court Yesterday.

ASK BOND TO BE REDUCED

Defense Thinks Should Be Allowed Reduction From $4,000—Another True Bill for Murder—Mistrial in L. M. Bryant Case.

The case of young Lonnie Snipes, charged with the killing of W. L. Williams, a travelling man in a house of ill fame on MacRae street this city, on the 14th of last September, was continued in the Superior Court yesterday until the next term, which will be the last week in September. The contiuanec was for the State, the defense evidencing an anxiety to try. Solicitor Duffy stated that it was impossible for him to get material witnesses, although he had used the telegraph freely in an effort to get them here for this term. It is stated that the absent witnesses are one or two of the women who testified at the former trial and a travelling man reported to have been in the house on the night of the killing. The State having asked for a continuance until the next term, Messrs. Bellamy, McClammy and Gafford, counsel for the prisoner, immediately lodged an application for a reduction of the $4,000 bond under which the defendant has been in jail since the last term, when a mistrial of the cause resulted from a failure of the jury to agree. Judge Biggs stated to the attorneys that he would take the matter under advisement and announce his decision later. Though Superior Court judges are very reluctant to change amount of bail as fixed by another, the counsel for Snipes very much hope to get a reduction of the bond, as they are confident further confinement, especially during the intense heat of Summer and immediately following an operation for appendicitis, will have a very deleterious effect upon the prisoner.

The case was taken up, first thing yesterday morning. Snipes was not in court, being still confined in the hospital recovering from the effects of his recent operation for appendicitis, but his counsel stated that they would have the prisoner in court if the case could be tried at this term. Snipes is said to be doing nicely at the hospital, but has a horror of returning to the county jail.

Court convened at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and the sheriff returned as jurors for the day: W. A. McGirt, O. H. Wright, D. W. Willis, S. E. Rogers, Otto Banck, W. H. Shearin, Chas. Richter and J. W. Harper. Of the number Messrs. Banck, Shearin and Harper were excused.

The first mistrial of the term came with the case of L. M. Bryant, charged with forcible trespass upon the lands claimed by both the defendant and Mr. Jas. H. Burriss in Federal Point township. The jury retired with the case about noon and half an hour after court took a recess for the day at 2:10 P. M., reported that they were unable to reach an agreement, because the jury as a whole could not decide to which of the parties the land belonged and upon which it was alleged the trespass occurred. Judge Biggs instructed them that it was a case of who was in possession, but the jury could not determine this question, as both claimed possession. A civil suit will be required to determine this, which, however, has not yet been instituted by either, each apparently waiting for the other. Bryant is also charged technically with larceny in removing turpentine from the lands in dispute. The latter case will probably come up today.

The grand jury came into court in a body during the morning and returned a true bill for murder against Herbert Moyes, the negro charged with shooting another at Almont factory some months ago, his victim dying in the hospital some weeks after the affair. The grand jury appears to have about completed its work for the term. A committee was sent yesterday afternoon to inspect the quarters of the county convicts, now engaged in building a concrete bridge over Purviance creek.

Other cases were disposed of yesterday as follows: O. J. Padison and Julia Mumford, colored, gambling; verdict, not guilty. O. J. Paddison, conducting gaming house; nol prosse with leave. Chas. Spicer, assault with deadly weapon; verdict not guilty. Chas. Gibson, assault with deadly weapon; four months on roads. Sis Lucas, larceny; verdict, guilty; 12 months on roads. Mandy Jackson, carrying concealed weapons; pleads guilty. Henry Wilson, assault with intent to commit rape; defendant through his counsel, submits to assault with deadly weapon.

LIFE IN CAMP BRUNSWICK

All the Soldiers Well and Hearty. Pleasant Launch Party and Rare Presence of Mind By "Doc." Nutt—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Camp Brunswick, Southport, N. C., July 24.—General orders for yesterday were issued to the Brigade in camp here as follows: Officer of the day, First Lieutenant Wilbur Dosher; Sergeant of the Guard, J. W. Orrell; Corporal of the Guard, H. O. Thomas; Detail, Privates A. L. Dosher, T. K. Curtis, Kelly Smith and W. T. Willets.

With the exception of a few cases of stomach-ache, all the boys are well and hearty. The latest quotations on the Southport stock exchange show that rubber is soaring. This is probably due to the fact that the Dixon Register quartette have equipped themselves with adjustable stomachs.

Last night Mr. R. S. Newton gave a very enjoyable launch party, to which he invited several of the boys in camp. While off Battery Island the engine "balked" for a few moments: immediately "Doc." Nutt was struggling manfully for a life preserver. When the engine started he tried to explain his actions by saying that he was merely showing the rest of the party how to get into life-preserver. "Oh, no! Doc. We're onto your curves." After the trip on the river Col. Taylor invited the party up to camp to help him get rid of a few ice-cold watermelons, which were greatly enjoyed by all.

Yesterday when the bugle sounded second mess Johnny "Mac," "Lovely" Davis and "Shipoke" Beach failed to show up; when they finally arrived they were served to a mess of

Fricasseed "Punk"
Water a la Ice
Toothpicks

By the vigor with which they tackled third mess, they were evidently under the impression that they were liable to treatment of the same diet at first mess the next morning. Private Mordic Leonard has earned our hearty thanks by treating us to a fine bait of fresh pine-apples at our mess last night.—B. F. K. Jr.

TO NAVASSA TODAY.

Interesting Ceremonies on Beginning Work on Railroad.

Indications point to a large attendance today at the formal exercises which will mark the beginning of actual construction work on the new Brunswick, Wilmingon and Southport Railroad. The exercises will take place this morning on the grounds and the steamer Atlantic will reach the city at 10:30 o'clock this morning with a large party of Southport people on board. The steamer will stop here at the foot of Chestnut street for the purpose of taking on a party of Wilmington people, who will attend the ceremonies, returning between 1 and 2 o'clock this aftrnoon.

The first spike in the new road will be driven by Master Thomas Ruffin Whitehead, ten years old, a son of President Z. W. Whitehead, of the company at the head of this enterprise. Geo. H. Bellamy, Esq., of Brunswick, will be master of ceremonies, and addresses will be delivered by Mayor Guthrie, R. W. Davis, Esq., and Representative C. Ed. Taylor, of Southport; Mayor Springer, of Wilmington, and President J. A. Taylor, of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce. Then there will be other speakers and a great day is expected to mark this important event in the history of our sister county.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. JAMES.

Annual Supper Tonight at Atlantic View Hotel, Wrightsville.

Everything is in readiness for the annual supper of the Brotherhood of St. James, which will be given this evening at the Atlantic View Hotel, on Wrightsville Sound. One hundred fine, live pig fish, shrimp, crabs and other sea delicacies are in waiting for the supper and under the capable direction of Mr. W. H. Stokley the affair promises to be a delightful success. The members of the Brotherhood and their friends will leave the city from any part of the line on the 7 o'clock car and all members of the congregation of St. James, whether members of the Brotherhood or not, will be welcome with all members of the church who are visiting in the city. Judge J. Crawford Biggs and Solicitor Rodolph Duffy, of the Superior Court, will be invited to become special guests of the Brotherhood for this occasion.

STORM AT LUMINA.

Mid-Week Dance Was Broken up by Wind and Rain at the Beach.

The wind and rain storm at Lumina last night about 9 o'clock was quite severe according to reports from the beach, though no damage was done. It was the regular night for the mid-week dance at the pavilion but the storm was of such violence that most of the dancers forsook the floor for a return to the city. Mrs. Walsh, who was among the visitors to Lumina for the evening became frightened at the storm and fainted, but after a short while she came around all right. She was brought to the city on the 11:30 o'clock car in a reclining chair and carried to her home. In the city there was a violent electrical storm and a heavy rain but there was no damage so far as could be learned. The rain only partially allayed the heat which was quite severe all day.

THE RAILWAY CASES

Governor and Counsel in Conference at Raleigh; Pritchard Conferring at Asheville.

SERIOUS ASPECT PRESENTED

United States Government Proposition Declined, Steps May Be Taken to Protect Iits Jurisdiction—Development at Both States.

(By Associated Press).

Raleigh, July 24.—A conference to decide upon plans in the railroad rate cases in which Governor Glenn, the Council of State and counsel employed by the State in prosecuting violations of the State railroad law, took place and ended shortly before 6 o'clock this evening without any determination being reached.

This was because Governor Glenn received a telegram from the United States Assistant Attorney General Stewart F. Sanford that he would be in Raleigh on Thursday for a conference in the matter of the railroad rate litigation. Until he has talked with Mr. Sanford, Governer Glenn declines to give out anything further as to his position which has heretofore been that the State law must be respected and obeyed. Ex-Governor Aycock and E. J. Justice, speaker of the House in the last Legislature, were present at the conference.

Asheville, N. C., July 24.—The peace propositions submitted by Assistant Attorney General Sanford to Governor Glenn and rejected by the latter, are as follows:

"First—That the injunction suit should be expedited and gotten ready for final hearing at once.

"Second—That the habeas corpus cases decided here should be at once carried to the Supreme Court of the United States by appeal.

"Third—That the Green case at Raleigh, in which the Southern Railway was fined $30,000, should be carried by the railway company to the Supreme Court of the State at once, and if that court should affirm the judgment of the Superior Court, the railway company should sue out a writ of error from the Supreme Court of the United States and carry the case to the latter court; that these three cases present every feature of the controversy which has arisen and is now agitating the public mind with regard to the recent rate law of the Legislature.

"Fourth—That all future proceedings under the rate law in the State Court shall be suspended until the Supreme Court of the United States can render final judgment settling the controversy."

The State advocates stated tonight that the Federal Court cannot escape a violation of the Federal statute which prohibits a Federal court from granting an injunction against a State court. They say that it is too clear now to admit of question that what Judge Pritchard has already done amounts to a violation of the Federal statute.

Raltigh, July 24.—United States Marshall Claudius Dockery today served on the Corporation Commission a restraining and interlocutory order from Judge Pritchard in the case of R. Nelson Buckley and others against the Atlantic Coast Line from putting in operation the 2 1-4 cent passenger rate act passed by the last Legislature. The orders are returnable the second Monday in January. The papers will be sent to Wilmington to be served on officers of the Coast Line Company there.

At the conclusion of the conference Governor Glenn stated it was decided not to act finally or make any statement of the position of the State until there is a personal conference with Assistant United States Attorney General Sanford, who arrived in Raleigh from Asheville tomorrow morning. Asked if he intended to insist that the Southern and Atlantic Coast Line put into operation the reduced rates pending adjudication of the act by the State and United States Supreme Courts, the Governor declined to say The Governor said he knew nothing of any effort by the State officials or by others to bring about an impeachment of Judge Pritchard because of his course in the rate case and had not entertained any such idea relative to Judge Pritchard himself.

Looks Serious at Asheville.

(By Associated Press).

Asheville, N. C., July 24.—At noon today it is conservative to say that the developments in the railroad controversy bear a more serious aspect than at any time since the agitation began. The peace proposal made at the instance of Judge Pritchard to the State authorities that the Federal Court will not interfere with the judgment of $30,000 which was imposed on the Southern Railway by Judge Long of Raleigh, if the State officials will allow both the Asheville and Raleigh cases to run their course to the Supreme Court of the United States has not been accepted by Governor Glenn. The Governor has simply taken notice of the proposal by asking if this means that the new rate law will be observed during the pendency of the case which would nullify Judge Pritchard's injunction. In the meanwhile District Attorney Holton has been sent for either at the instance of United States Assistant Attorney General Sanford, who is here, or at the instance of Judge Pritchard and there is talk of indictments against all persons who show a disposition to impede the progress of the United States Court.

TO CURTAIL THE OUTPUT

Editor Whitehead Returns From Meeting of Lumbermen at Sumter, S. C.—Talks of the Plans in Prospect.

Mr. Z. W. Whitehead, editor of the Southern Lumber Journal of this city, returned yesterday from Sunter where on Thursday he attended the meeting of the lumbermen of the Carolinas, a brief account of which was given in the Associated Press dispatches to the Star yesterday morning.

Mr. Whitehead said that the meeting was very successful; that the manufacturers present agreed unanimously to shut down the mills in these two States for thirty days during the month of August or September, during which time they will neither quote on or accept any new business. The mills and interests represented at this meeting control approximately sixty per cent., of the lumber output of the two States, and a meeting of the North Carolina Pine Association will be held in a few days to swing Virginia in line with North Carolina and South Carolina, the Georgia and Florida manufacturers having agreed to shut down during August at a meeting in Jacksonville several days ago.

"It is claimed by the lumber people," said Mr. Whitehead, "that there is too much lumber being made and that the excessive offerings are demoralizing the market and jeopardizing the interests of the manufacturer as well as the wholesaler and retailer at the other end of the line. Of course none of the lumber trade organizations have any power to enforce these agreements other than the voluntary action of the members. Manufacturers, however, not members of these organizations are co-operating with those who are members in the present effort to avoid cutting up so much valuable timber into lumber for which there is no demand.

"According to the lumber people, the consumption of lumber this year is very little if any below the consumption for a corresponding period last year. The trouble, however, lies in the fact that the capacity of the mills at this time is far in excess of the output of last year, and it is this surplus that is being produced which is playing the wild with the market. It is estimated that the action of the Georgia and Florida mills together with that ofw the mills in the two market during the month of August Carolinas and Virginia will take off the approximately 300,000,000 feet of lumber.

THE HEAT WAS INTENSE

Yesterday Another Scorcher With Maximum of 96 Degrees.

Yesterday was another scorcher; the heat was almost unbearable. The temperature reached a maximum of 96 degrees which broke the record for the month and almost touched the high mark of one day last month when the record for several years was broken. The minimum for the day was 70. People sweltered and fumed; cursed their luck and tried to be disagreeable and nobody could blame them. Pedestrians hugged the shady side of the streets and remained indoors during the middle of the day when possible. Many went to the beach to get a cooling breeze from old ocean, and many grouped around electric fans and soda fountains in an effort to pass the time off with the least discomfort. The day was warmer by one degree than Tuesday according to the official report.

The heat wave seems to be general according to the dispatches from Washington, where it is stated no immediate relief is in sight. Yesterday the official thermometer recorded 91 at Washington with a reading of 97 1-2 by thermometers on the street. Atlanta yesterday recorded 98 degrees, breaking all records since July 19th 1887. On Tuesday when Wilmington was "enjoying" a maximum of 95 degrees other points in the Wilmington district were faring even worse. Charlotte recorded 96, Florence 100, Goldsboro 1.01, Greensboro 98, Lumberton 98, Newbern 97, Raleigh 98 and Weldon 98.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON.

Many Persons Witnessed the Phenomenon Last Night.

A partial eclipse of the moon was visible here last night and many persons who had not read the papers closely for the past few days were mystified at the shadow which came over the planet early in the night, passing off about 12 or 1 o'clock. The shadow was visible in North and South America, the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, and in parts of the western portions of Europe and Africa. According to the astronomers the eclipse was due to begin at 8:59 o'clock and to pass entirely off at 1:29 P. M. The eclipse was at its height at 11:22 o'clock and was visible to the naked eye. Many persons called up the office last night to ask about the phenomenon, but the astronomical editor was off duty. It is sufficient to say that the eclipse came on schedule time and was observed with interest by a great many persons.

TRACING THE POISON

All Testimony in Hearing of Rowland Habeas Corpus Proceeding Was in Yesterday.

PURCHASE OF DEADLY DRUG

Bookkeeper Introduced to Show This Was Received Few Days Before Death—Bank of Ashpole Changes Its Name.

(By Associated Press.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 24.—The application for bail under habeas corpus proceedings of Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Rowland, indicted for the murder of Engineer Charles R. Strange, has reached the stage of argument by counsel, and this will close tomorrow. The only feature brought out today was the proof shown by the State that a wholesale drug company here, in response to a call by Dr. Rowland on March 29th, of this year, telegraphed for 15 grams of aconitine, a deadly poison, and this was delivered to him on the fourth of April, while Strange died on April 6th after Rowland called in for some slight attack, had been with him three hours and was with him when he died.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 21.—J. C. Allison, bookkeeper for the W. H. King Drug Company, was introduced with the complete set of books of the company together with exhibits from the cash register system used by the firm. In this way and from the personal memory of the bookkeeper it was shown that March 30th, Dr. Rowland placed an order for fifteen grams of aconitine, a rare deadly poison, to be ordered from New York by telegraph and that this was received from Merck & Co., New York, and delivered to Dr. Rowland April 4th, two days before the death of Strange. The examination of Allison was long drawn out and involved explanation of the system of bookkeeping in the store and every particular move in the transaction. The original telegram ordering the aconitine was introduced from the Postal Company and impounded for the regular trial.

The payment for the poison was shown from the cash book and charge to have been one dollar.

Dr. W. I. Royster, a practicing physician for 38 years, was introduced as a medical expert and testified as to what a fatal dose of aconitine would be, one thirtieth of a grain having been known to kill. He described at length the effect of aconitine poison on the system, and the condition of a body where death has resulted from this poison. These correspond very closely to the symptoms shown to have existed in the sudden illness and death of Strange and the condition of his body for some time after death—notably the relaxation of the joints some time after death and the suspicions of warmth about the body during the night following the death about noon, which caused watchers to believe Strange was not really dead and to try to get some physician to examine the body.

R. W. Newton, of the Baldwin detective agency put in evidence the register of the Monticello Hotel, Norfolk, Va., which showed "Dr. D. S. Rowland and wife" registered there and assigned room 139 on the evening of May 14th and a certified copy of the marriage certificate which showed they married in Norfolk May 15th, it being a little more than a month after the death of Strange, the former husband of the bride.

When the State rested its case there was some further evidence in rebuttal by the defense to show that Strange had been off duty on account of sickness just before his death. T. T. Hicks, of counsel for the defense, made the opening argument for the prisoners, urging bail because no proof was offered that the Rowland's poisoned Stranges. He will be followed tomorrow by other counsel pro and con. The ruling of the judge as to bail will hardly be made before Friday. The impression prevails that no bail will be allowed.

The Bank of Ashpole files with the Secretary of State a certificate of the change of name of the institution to The Bank of Fairmont, the name of the town having been changed at the last session of the Legislature. This is one of the most prosperous towns of Robeson county.

A charter is issued for the Turner Mills Company, of East Monbo, Iredell county, capital $250,000, by W. D. Moore and others for the operation of a general water power plant for electric current.

Ball Player's Tragic Death.

The tragic death of Preston D. Jones, short stop of the Tarboro Club of the Eastern Carolina League, has disrupted the club. Jones, who was ill in a hospital at Tarboro, while delirious last night overcame his attendant in a struggle and threw himself from a second story. He fell on a pavement and died almost immediately. Jones, whose home was in Provience, R. I., was a Brown University man. He and six other members of the team had been playing with Tarboro Club. In consequence of the tragedy the Brown men have decided to go home.

A CONSERVATIVE VIEW.

A good deal of excitement has been worked up in North Carolina and threatens to extend to Virginia over a conflict of State and national jurisdiction in the matter of enforcing passenger rate laws in those States. The legislatures of both States, says the New York Journal of Commerce, have passed acts limiting the charge for passenger fares within their boundaries to 2 1-4 cents a mile. There may be ground for testing the validity of these acts under the provision of the Constition of the United States which forbids any State to "deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law" or to "deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws;" but there is a regular and orderly way of securing such a test and no occasion for conflict or excitement. It does not seem to us that the Southern Railway Company went the right way to work in North Carolina. It proceeded to violate the law and defy the authorities of the State as a means of bringing the matter to a head, relying upon the interposition of the United States Court to come to its rescue instead of applying to that court in the first instance for an injunction against the enforcement of the law by the State authorities until its validity could be passed upon, as was done by the Pennsylvania Railroad at Philadelphia. On the other hand the State and local authorities in North Carolina are showing bad temper and making unnecessary bluster in the matter.

The ticket agents of the railroad company being under orders to sell tickets at the old rates regardless of the new law, had no alterative but to do so or lose their places. In doing so they violated the law and made themselves liable to its penalties, and at Asheville the ticket agent and the district passenger agent of the company were arrested and hastily sentenced by a police judge to thirty days in the chain gang. This may have been judicial under the authority given by the law, but it was far from judicious. There must be, at least there certainly should be, opportunity for a stay of such a judgment and appeal to a higher court with the chance for a transfer of the matter to the Federal Court so far as a question of personal constitutional rights is involved. Governor Glenn and his special counsel contend that the rate law is valid on its face and must be so treated until it has been adjudged invalid by some court of competent jurisdiction. That is true enough, but when that question is raised the punishment of an alleged violator should be held in abeyance until the question is decided. Otherwise an irreparable wrong may be done to a person proved in the end only to have violated an enactment which was in contravention of rights guaranteed to him by the Constitution of the United States. The person adjudged guilty should not be subject to an ignominious penalty so long as his rights are in doubt. That ought to be acknowledged by the courts and the executive authorities of the State of North Carolina, who should permit the question of right to go to a judicial test in a regular manner without first insisting upon this punishment of persons who may finally be adjudged not to have been guilty of violating a valid law.

Instead of proceeding in this orderly fashion they appear to have determined to punish the agents of the railroads first for violating the law and find out afterwards in the course of litigation whether their constitutional rights were thereby destroyed in spite of the guarantee of the Federal Government. The railroad company seems to have started wrong and then the State courts appear to have taken the wrong course. There was no occasion for such haste to punish somebody, right or wrong, and the first consideration should be to have a test of the validity of the law in a peaceful manner becoming to a civilized community. The result of these first wrong steps was that the counsel for the railroad applied to a United Circuit Judge for a writ of habeas corpus to take the convicted men out of the hands of the State authorities and prevent their punishment until the question of their rights under the Constitution could be decided. This elicited a threat of resistance if it was attempted and naturally fomented excitement which was liable to become dangerous. Sympathy for the attitude of the local and State authorities was expressed in Virginia with an intimation that their example would be followed there.

All this would seem foolish and ridiculous if it were not a matter to be treated seriously and judiciously as well as judicially. Judge Pritchard of the Circuit Court, whose jurisdiction includes both States of North Carolina and Virginia, is spoken of as having been a politician and as peculiarly close to the Administration at Washington. He was a United States Senator from North Carolina and was first appointed a district judge and then advanced to the circuit judgeship by President Roosevelt. But he is a judge and not a partisan and should be trusted to deal with this question so far as it comes before him in a calm and judicial way which will convince all fair-minded men that it is rightly determned. There is not the least excuse for any serious conflict of jurisdiction if men in judicial and official postions in the State keep their heads, but personal rights are regarded as peculiarly sacred in this country, and accused persons are entitled to every safeguard against suffering penalties until those rights are determined in the manner provided by law. North Carolina will make a blunder with serious consequences if it insists upon punishing men charged with crime under her law before permitting a test of the question whether under an inhibition of the national Constitution that law is valid. The United States Government can hardly permit that to be done without first ascertaining whether its guarantee of protection of personal rights is being violated.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—The Albany (N. Y.) Argus (Dem.) says: "Of course, the New York World 'knocks' the suggestion that Governor John A. Johnson might make a good compromise candidate for the Democrats to agree upon. Any Democratic who had the ability and brains to lead, as Senator Hill had, or any Democratic who has qualities such as might make him a winning candidate, the World has no use for; it might interfere with its plan to support Roosevelt for a third term, and do so an independent half-Democratic paper." —Albany (N. Y.) Argus (Dem.)

—But if Mr. Bryan believes government ownership will be necessary ultimately to solve the railroad problem, will government regulation even seem to him to be successful? Because he desires to keep government ownership out of the approaching campaign it doesn't follow that his position in favor of government ownership has undergone any change. If he believes in government ownership he will work for it, though he may not work openly and aggressively for it yet awhile. If he were to be elected President the chances are that he would use all of his influence and power at once in favor of government ownership. Believing as he does in it would government regulation be given a fair trial?—Savannah News (Dem).

—The "automobile evil" is receiving the attention of the women's clubs of Pittsburg. In the mad rush for social prestige, it is said, men working on small salaries are mortgaging their houses to get money with which to buy automobiles. One woman's club says in resolutions: "Something must be done and done quickly, to prevent the women of Pittsburg from resorting to the means they do to acquire social prestige in their set. Mothers are neglecting their children and young wives driving their husbands to the wall for the sake of the appearance of wealth." Men who are working for $100 a month it is stated, are riding about the town in automobiles costing from $2,000 to $3,000. From this, it would seem that there are some people in Pittsburg who are not millionaires, though the stranger probably wouldn't know it.—Galveston News (Dem).

—"Senator Hopkins, of Illinois talked about the tariff question with Mr. Roosevelt on Wednesday and then gave out the statement that 'it would be suicide to the Republican party to undertake revision of the tariff during the next Congress.' After the Presidential election I believe it will be the duty of the Republican party to revise the tariff, and that it will be done. The assumption expressed here is that the Republicans will elect both the President and the majority of the House of Representatives in 1908. The Sixty-first Congress will meet in December, 1908, unless it shall be called together in the Spring of that year to revise the tariff, as will have to be done if there is to be a revision in two years. Otherwise there can be no new act passed until about three years from this time. We do not believe that it will come even then, unless the revisionists show much more energy than they have yet manifested." — Hartford Times (Dem).

More Than Quinine.

Quinine is simply one of the products of the Cinchona Bark, and the drug which is used in GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC contains more of the active principles of Cinchona Bark than ordinary Quinine. Everyone knows that Whole Wheat and Graham Flour contain more nutriment than ordinary white flour, as part of the properties of the wheat are lost in rendering the flour white. This same thing is true of Quinine, and the drug used in this preparation is a special product which contains more valuable properties than ordinary Quinine. The Standard for 30 years. 50c.

The Warmth of a Snow House.

Usually our snow igloos allowed each man from eighteen to twenty inches space in which to lie down and just room enough to stretch his legs well. With our sleeping bags they were entirely comfortable, no matter what the weather outside. The snow is porous enough to admit of air circulation, but even a gale of wind without would not affect the temperature within. It is claimed by the natives that when the wind blows a snow house is warmer than in a period of still cold. I could see no difference. A new snow igloo is, however, more comfortable than one that has been used, for newly cut snow blocks are more porous. In one that has been used there is always a crust of ice on the interior which prevents a proper circulation of air.—Dillon Wallace in Outing Magazine.

Our Dirty Ancestors.

The daily morning bath was by no means popular with our ancestors in the good old days, for soap is really quite a new factor in the world's life. Most of our ancestors were very dirty and dissembled the fact by the use of stifling perfumes. Washing one's hands, which was only done by the very best people, meant dipping the fingers in rosewater and drying them on a napkin. Even the Romans of the time of the "decline," who were probably the cleanest as a community, simply bathed in water and rubbed themselves with oil. It sounds nasty to us, but, then, so does, for example, Chinese music, which millions of orientals think delightful.—London Answers.

A Puzzle.

"My dear, will it bother you if I ask a question about our club bookkeeping? You know I'm treasurer."

"No. Delighted, I'm sure."

"Well, we gave a charity euchre for the benefit of the Old Ladies' home. It cost our club $300, and we only took in $250. Now, I figure it out that the old ladies owe us $50. Am I right?"—Life.

Approximately Successful.

"He went to Washington expecting that his senator would get him an easy berth."

"Did he?"

"Not exactly. But he gave him a wide one!"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Unnecessary.

Benners—Those college professors listened to a lecture three hours long. Jenners—What of it? Benners—Nothing, only they say "a word to the wise is sufficient."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

The quickest acting poison is prussic acid. It causes almost instantaneous death.

—Greensboro News: The committee on arrangements for Greensboro's centennial celebration met last night for a discussion of plans for the event. The chairman was authorized to appoint a sub-committee of five to prepare a programme and report at a future meeting. About 25 members of the committee were present. It will be the duty of the sub-committe to prepare a programme which will be submitted to the original committee, and which will then be recommended to the citizens at a mass meeting. Every organization and the different industries in the city are to be represented at the next meeting. A great deal of interest is being mainfested in the coming evnt, th success of which now seems assured.

J. S. King, clerk on Market street, residing at 815 Orange street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I used Doan's Ointment and found it to be a great remedy for itching hemorrhoids. It acted like a charm in my case. I tried all kinds of remedies, but until I used Doan's Ointment I could get nothing to give me positive relief. It is a splendid preparation and you are welcome to use my name as one who says so. I obtained it at R. R. Bellamy's drug store."

FOR THE NEWSBOYS.

To Be Given an Outing at Rest Home at Carolina Beach This Week.

Always in his heart to make some one feel happy and to do them good physically and spiritually, Rev. R. W. Hogue, rector of St. James, and the management of the Rest Home at Carolina Beach are planning to give the newsboys of the city an all-day outing at their lodge on the beach Friday and Saturday of this week. A part of the bright youngsters who deliver papers in the city will be taken down to the seashore on Friday's trip of the steamer Wilmington and the remainder of them will be taken down on Saturday morning. A feature of the trip will be a dinner at the Rest Home and there will, of course, be some other forms of amusement of a healthful and wholesome character. The outing will be entirely free to the "newsies," and it is unnecessary to say that their appreciation will know no bounds. Details of the trip are now being worked out.

—Friends of the family will regret to know that the little ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Freimuth has typhoid fever. The boy has been at the beach but was brought up yesterday to the family home on Castle street, this city. Many friends hope for the little fellow's early recovery.

YOUNG STRANGER ARRESTED.

Tried to Vamoose With Conductor's Suit Case.

Upon the arrival of the accommodation train from Fayetteville yesterday afternoon about 6 o'clock, Capt. T. G. Mathis, conductor of the train left the caboose to get a pail of water from the yard nearby. While he was away a young white man, later identified as Julius Brasington, and a passenger on the train from Fayetteville, took the occasion to walk off with the captain's dress suit case containing a number of articles of clothing, a fine pistol and other property belonging to the conductor. Upon returning to the car to dress to come up town, Capt. Mathis at once missed his suit case and instituted inquiry of the hands on the yard as to whether or not they had seen anyone walking off with the stolen property. The description of a young white man easily recognized by Capt. Mathis as his former passenger was given by one of the hands and the conductor set out to overtake the man. He was found in a store near corner of Fourth and Red Cross streets, the suit case being left on the floor. Capt. Mathis accosted him and asked him to whom the suit case belonged. He said that it was his but the conductor informed him to the contrary and turned the youthful traveller over to an officer. He was locked up at the police station and will be given a preliminary trial before the Mayor at noon today.

Brasington had a small pistol on his person, several dollars in money and a lot of souvenir postal cards. He said that he came from Baltimore. Cap.t Mathis said he boarded his train yesterday afternoon in Fayetteville, purchased a ticket at first for only a part of the way and then later to Wilmington when called to time. He is dressed well and has a neat appearance. Letters in his pockets indicate that he has traveled quite extensively.

MR. N. B. RANKIN STRICKEN.

Suffered Stroke of Paralysis Yesterday Morning at the Beach.

Friends will regret exceedingly to learn that Mr. N. B. Rankin yesterday morning at Wrightsville Beach suffered a stroke of paralysis, one of his sides being affected. Mr. Rankin is spending the Summer on the beach, and yesterday morning walked down to the Carolina Yacht Club to spend a while with friends. While there, he was noticed to have been stricken and Mr. Walton, superintenent of the club, assisted him to a comfortable position. A physician was hurriedly summoned, Dr. Hall, who is here visiting his parents, Mr. an Mrs. B. F. Hall, having been the first to reach the sick man. Mr. Rankin did not lose consciousness, but for a time lost the power of speech. He was carried to his cottage, and later brought up to his residence in this city, where he was reported as resting very comfortably last night, but still in a critical condition. Dr. T. S. COL. AYRES RETIRED.

Incapacitated for Service, He Goes On Pay Roll For Life.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, July 24.—Lieutenant-Colonel Charles G. Ayres, fourteenth cavalry, has been placed upon the retired list of the army from this date (July 24, 1907) on the finding of a board, that he is incapacitated for active service on account of disability, incident to the service. The retirement of Lieutenant Colonel Ayres was indirectly the result of the publication of an interview in which he was reported to have criticised army methods of administering justice as an outcome of the difficulty which Mrs. Ayres had had with the authorities of the military academy in connection with the famous "overcoat" incident.

Last night Seoul was apparently calm, but apprehension of further disturbances has not subsided. It is asserted that court spies are busily engaged in efforts to ascertain the attitude of Japan. A new press regulation prohibiting the publication of diplomatic and military secrets on anything injurious to the public peace is enforced.

The greatest fire in the history of Victoria, B. C., occurred last night, destroying five blocks and many detached buildings. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

The State Department yesterday made public the results of the recent appointments for the consular service. Only thirteen passed, receiving the required mark of 80.

Two men were killed and five others seriously injured by the falling of scaffolding upon some work at the Pittsburg and Conneaut dock at Conneaut, Ohio, yesterday. The dead are: A. Matson and B. Huick, of Cleveland, structural iron workers.

In a head-on collision between two traction cars on the Cleveland and Southwestern line at Elyria, Ohio, yesterday three persons were seriously and probably fatally injured and a score of others received injuries of a minor nature.

Three men were burned to death yesterday by an explosion in a powder house at Two Lick Coal Mine, near Clarksburg, W. Va. The powder ignited from a pipe one of the men was smoking. The building was demolished.

It is known that the Grand Judge of Baden, is strongly opposed to the death penalty; consequenty, it is believed that he will commute the death sentence imposed by the Court in Karlsrhue upon Karl Hau for the murder to imprisonment for life.

A message from Wytheville, Va., announces the sudden deth at Hickory, N. C., of Melvin Grubb, known as the Virginia Giant. Grubb's show name was "Jolly Joe" and he had travelled extensively. He was a native of Wythe county, was 24 years old and weighed 702 pounds.

The steamer Florida, built for the Old Bay Line, was safely launched from the ways of the Maryland Steel Company, at Sparrows Point, yesterday. When she goes into commission she will be the largest passenger steamer doing local service south of New York. She is 306 feet long with 56 feet beam and 19 feet depth of hold.

Armed guards patrol many of the properties of the Iron mines in the Hibbing, Minn., district not yet affected by the strike. The guards and deputies have been liberally supplied with arms and ammunition. The mine operators are not getting out a ton of ore but the men still at work are engaged in "stripping" or suface work.

William E. McLachlan, 62 years old, a recluse living on a farm near Amsterdam, N. Y., was found dead in his home yesterday with eight stab wounds in his body. McLachlin was estimated to be worth $75,000, lived alone in a miserly way and did something of repairing clocks and guns. No motive for the crime can be found.

The German tank steamer August Korfoff, Captain Wichausen, which arrived at London from Philadelphia yesterday, reports that in latitude 47, longitude 27, she sighted the British steamer Eretreria, Captain Mulcahy, from Savannah and Norfolk for Hamburg, on fire, and stood by for twelve hours until the flames were extinguished.

The magistrates who have investigated the killing of a woman near Potsdam, Germany, last Wednesday by Emil Simon, of New York, while driving an automobile, have decided that Simon must remain in prison to await trial. Simon according to the Dresden newspapers, made an attempt to escape the accident and was arrested in Dresden. He will be brought here under a warrant.

Because the bid of the George F. Fuller Company, the only bidders, at $246,500 is larger by $46,500 than the appropriation, the probability is that the Department's plans for the addition to the Naval hospital at Portsmouth, Va., will be modified so that work may proceed with the construction of the buildings, which are very much needed. Congress appropriated $200,000 for the work.

The special grand jury appointed by Judge Woods, of the corporation court, to investigate the riots at Roanoke ten days ago when all the Greek restaurants in town were wrecked by a mob, yesterday, returned eight more indictments, including 3 against Greeks who were connected with the Bimont restaurant where the trouble originated. The Greeks indicated have left town. The grand jury adjourned.

Thus far the United States has contributed more than any other country to the success of The Hague peace conference. As was expected the American proposal for the collection of contractual debts will be adopted unanimously on July 27, only a few countries making reservations while the proposition regarding the permanency of the arbitration court, the most important step of the conference, also will be accepted with amendments, to which, however, the American delegates will offer no objection.

Governor Frantz, of Oklahoma, yesterday issued his election proclamation calling an election for September 17th to vote on the adoption or rejection of the constitution and to elect State, district, county and township officers. H. A. Hoah, who secured the injunction preventing the original call of the election, which later was dissolved by the Supreme Court, left for Washington to apply to the Supreme Court of the United States for a writ of supersedeas, continuing the injunction pending an appeal.

PACIFIC COAST HORROR.

List of Dead in Steamer Collision Considerably Reduced.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

San Francisco, July 24.—But few changes have been made in the lists of lost and saved of the steamer Columbia published yesterday. The steamer officials have been informed that Chew Mock, of Oakand, a Chinese first-class traveler, who was reported missing, was among the saved.

Miss B. Musser was also found to be among those saved instead of missing as at first reported. The company has anounced that the bodies of the victims were being held by the coroner at Eureka pending orders from friends and relatives to have them shipped to this city and Portland. The remains of the Eastern passengers will be sent home by both routes.

A revised list of the passengers shows 108 saved and 77 missing. Of the officers and crew forty were saved and sixteen are missing. This makes a total of 93 unaccounted for.

Astoria, Ore., July 23.—The steamer George W. Elder arrived here today, having on board 67 survivors of the wrecked steamer Columbia. The George W. Elder did not sight any of the missing rafts or boats of the Columbia and picked up none of the victims after leaving Eureka.

GEORGIA PROPOSITION.

Warm Time in the Empire State Yesterday.

Atlanta, Ga., July 24.—The "lie" was passed and blows exchanged before the fight on prohibition reached a close tonight by adjournment until tomorrow, when the fight to place the bill on its third reading for passage will be resumed. The session which had been continuous since 9 o'clock this morning, had been drawn out until nearly 10:30 o'clock tonight when disturbances from the galleries caused Speaker Slater to order them cleared. This was done and the debate continued on the floor. A dispute between Representaive Wright,of Floyd, and Representitive Hall, of Bibb, progressed to a point where Wright said to Hall:

"You're a liar." Instantly blows were exhanged. Friends quickly intervened and when quiet was restored Representative Candler offered a motion to adjourn, which was adopted at 10:53.

CHAPLAIN GONE WRONG.

"Sky Pilot" on Battleship Minnesota to be Tried by Court Martial.

Washington, July 24.—Chaplain Harry W. Jones, of the battleship Minnesota who has been stationed at Norfolk, Va., is to be tried by court martial on charges of scandalous conduct to the destruction of good morals and falsehood, preferred by the acting Secretary of the Navy. Under the charge of scandalous conduct there are 17 specifications consisting mainly in allegations of the issuance of worthless checks. Under the falsehood charge, it is alleged that Jones misrerepresented the facts regarding a note which had been given by him.

THE FIRST SYNDICATE.

How the French Word Was Americanized Amid Much Jesting.

Throughout the European negotiations in reference to the Northern Pacific railroad an interesting French word recurred again and again—namely, "syndicat"—which Jay Cooke and his partners soon converted into an English word, syndicate. The newspaper reporters rolled it under their tongues. It was a find for punsters and versifiers. The New York Tribune received these lines from one of its waggish contributors:

Pray what is a syndicate
Intended to indicate?
Is questioned abroad and at home.
Say, is it a corner
Where Jay Cook-e Horner
Can pull out a very big plum?

In congress the word was under examination. Some of "Sunset" Cox's constituents had written him, that member declared, to ask if it were in any way related to the Kuklux. "A scholar learned in philology," he continued amid laughter, "says it comes from the original Chinese and is pronounced 'Ah Sindecat,' from a well known player of cards called the 'heathen Chinee.' A revenue reformer writes me that it is an animal peculiar to Pennsylvania, with a head of iron, eyes of nickel, legs of copper and a heart of stone. It consumes every green thing outside its own state." Cox went to Sir John Mandeville's "Travels In Far Cathay" and there found an account of a "strange animal of the lizard kind. He was known in anciente books as a chameleon. When the sun did shine, he took various colors. Sometimes it wore a golden hue and sometimes had a green back. I caught him by means of a steele mirror, which so bedazzled his eye that he was easily caught. I bring him home as a strange beast. It is called by the natives a scindicat."

The syndicate's task was to take in the old 6 per cent bonds issued during the war, many of which had drifted to Europe, where they were held by the thrifty peasantry, who had purchased them at paper money prices, and to sell the 5 per cent bonds in their stead. It was a complicated work, calling for complete control of the markets at home and abroad. Though the operation had to run the gantlet of savage attacks by opposition politicians and editors, it was instantly successful. Indeed, two syndicates were formed, one in London through the new house of Jay Cooke, McCulloch & Co. and the other by Jay Cooke's firms in America. The banker was warmly congratulated on the successful management of the syndicate by President Grant and his friends of every rank, and it was believed that the achievement would immensely promote the success of the Northern Pacific railroad, especially when it was announced that the Cookes had made an alliance with the Rothschilds for future funding operations.—Dr. Oberholtzer in Century.

Physical Strength and Degeneracy.

Never in the history of the human race—not even in the gladiatorial days of Greece and Rome, when physical strength was worshiped almost like a fetich—has so much study been devoted to bodily development and well being. In spite of all this, however, we cannot shut our eyes to the fact that, vide medical reports, while the standard of health may be going up with a section of the people, it is steadily going down with others—in a word, that physical degeneracy is alarmingly on the increase.—Co-operative News.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Wilson, N. C., July 23: Sunday afternoon on the plantation of widow Yelverton, four miles east of Saratoga, in Wilson county, the 13-year-old son of Mr. J. B. Ellis found a half gallon jug of whiskey. He drank of its contents to such an extent that he died shortly after.

—Charleston, S. C., Post: Eight Austrian immigrants, being among the people who came to Charleston on the first trip of the steamer Wittekind, have returned to Charleston from Monroe, N. C., where they have been residing for some time, and they are back at work in the Royal Bag and Yarn Mill on upper King street.

—Newbern Journal: Capt. E. T. Winston arrived from Raleigh Tuesday and will arrange to open a recruiting station for the United States Army in this city. The office will be at No. 111 Middle street, and will be in charge of Corporal Floyd Schutter. Capt. Winston will visit the station from time to time to conduct the examinations.

—The Seaboard Air Line Railway Company is expecting daily the arrival of several new locomotives, passenger and freight, having the Walshoent valve gear. This is something new for a railroad in the South, and these engines have only recently been adopted on the Pennsylvania Railroad and are proving successful there. They have not heretofore been adopted by any Southern railroad.

—Raleigh Times: For the first time in the history of this State, a North Carolina flag now floats over the buildings of the State penitentiary. A brilliant 8x10 feet bunting is swinging at the top of a flag pole 150 feet high. This is in accordance with a law passed by the General Assembly of 1907, providing for a flag over every public State building.

—Fayetteville, July 23: This afternoon the passenger agent of the Atlantic Coast Line stated he had been informed that a paper would be served on him for selling tickets in excess of two and a quarter cents per mile, the correspondent has talked to G. M. Rose, attorney for the railroad, who informs him that up to this hour no paper has been drawn and no process been served.

—Rocky Point, N. C., July 23: A most flagrant violation of the railroad rate law took place near here Monday night on Train No. 42, A. C. L., Newell conductor. Mr. J. B. Durham, of this place, tendered the conductor mileage, $2.50, from here to Rocky Mount. It was accepted and carried into another car, but ten minutes afterward Mr. Durham was forcibly ejected at Ashton, his fare was placed in his pocket, and he had to walk back to his home.

—Mt. Airy, July 22: During the assembling of the congregation at Central Warehouse, where the revival is in progress, a runaway team swept through a crowd near the city jail and Mrs. Robert Mathis was struck, knocked down and seriously injured. At first it was thought her wounds would prove fatal, but hopes are entertained for her recovery. The lady is badly bruised and her suffering is great. By heroic efforts the horses were stopped before any other damage was done.

—Revs. J. J. Hall, Watson M. Fairley and G. F. Smith, pastors of Fayetteville, are out in a resolution expressing delight at the decisions of Judges Christian and Artman, declaring that the liquor license system is unconstitutional and favoring asking the next State Legislature to pass a State prohibition law. Knowing by experience the great material, moral and spiritual blessings coming to a community living under prohibition laws—Fayetteville having had prohibition for eight years—they advise every town and city to overthrow the traffic. The resolutions recite that they are especially anxious to see the destruction of the traffic in Raleigh.

—Winston-Salem, July 23: Thomas Giddings, aged 67 years, attempted to shoot and kill his 16-year-old daughter in north Winston this morning, and, the girl's life was saved only by the failure to fire of the rusty pistol in the hands of the father. After his arrest Giddings confessed to the officers that it was his intention to kill his daughter and then himself. His reason was that his two daughters refused not to swear against him on the charge of attempting to rape his oldest daughter. He offered the girls $150 if they would agree not to testify against him at the trial this week. Giddings told the officers that he drank a bottle of carbolic acid this morning and that he would be dead in a few minutes. The old man was attended by a physician, and the doctor thinks his patient will recover. Gidding was released from jail on bail last Friday, having been arrested on the charge of an attempt to criminally assalt his daughter.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, July 24. — The cotton market was nervous and irregular. Prices sold into new high ground for the movement during the early session, but weakened later and closed steady at a net loss of 3 to 15 points. Sales were estimated at 350,000 bales. The market opened steady at an advance of 22 points on July and of 4 to 8 points on other months. July sold at 12.30 on the call, presumably to shorts, but transactions in that month were very light and the fluctuations seemed to reflect nothing more than the evening up of belated interests. The active new crop months worked up to a net advance of 7 to 9 points shortly after the opening on better cables than expected and continue hot weather in the belt, but the advancing tendency was checked around 11.99 for October by realizing, and a renewal of bear pressure, which was encouraged by the forecast for showers in the eastern belt. Later the selling became a little more aggressive on private wires reporting showers in the Carolinas and Alabama, accompanied by moderating temperatures, and the market closed within a point of the lowest for the day. August and September were relatively weak under selling by the bear clique that controls much of the local stock, while July showed the minimum loss, closing at 12.05 bid, after selling as low as 12.07.

Wires from New Orleans stated that two thousand bales would arrive there during the week from Liverpool consigned to spinners.

Receipts at the ports today, 2,580 bales, against 1,513 last week and 3,837 last year. For the week 10,000 bales, against 10,361 last week and 29,523 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 762 bales, against 1,287 last year, and at Houston 406 bales, against 162 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands, 13.10; middling Gulf, 13.35; sales, none. Futures closed steady.

DARROW'S SPEECH A WARM NUMBER

Pent-Up Wrath Against J. H. Hawley Leading Counsel For State Was Turned Loose.

ONCE LIE WAS PASSED

Closing Scenes in Famous Trial at Boise, Involving Western Federation of Miners—Nothing Dignified About Onslaught.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Boise, Idaho, July 24.—Clarence Darrow, of Chicago, for two hours and a half of the morning session of the Haywood trial today, proclaimed the innocence of his client and the impossibility of his conviction upon the uncorroborated evidence of Harry Orchard. J. H. Hawley, leading counsel for the State, and Orchard were the figures around whom most of the storm of the morning centered. Throughout the ten weeks of testimony taking, Hawley and Darrow have clashed almost daily and there have been frequent exchanges of angry words until during Hawley's argument the lie was passed. This morning Darrow vented his accumulated wrath. There was no attempt at refinement of attack; it was straight vituperation and angry denunciation. For two hours and a half Darrow rang the charges on Hawley's past, his present and his future, and on Orchard he heaped every word of abuse and contempt that the least possible respect for the court would permit.

The court room was crowded to its limit, was hot and the atmosphere heavy, but the Chicago lawyer held his audience to close attention throughout the morning. He pleaded with voice and gesture. Not quiet for a moment, he paced to and fro before the box addressing each of the jurymen in turn and always pleading that an Idaho jury would never find a verdict against Haywood upon the testimony of Orchard, who he said, was "corroborated only by a dog, a wall-eyed horse and J. H. Hawley."

Mr. Darrow, in closing the argument of the morning session, said if the jury should hang Bill Haywood "one million hands will seize the banner by the open grave and bear it on to victory."

The career of Frank Steunenburg, the murdered former Governor of Idaho, was discussed at length by Clarence Darrow in his plea in behalf of William D. Haywood, charged with the murder. Justifying the articles published in the Miners' Magazine, the official organ of the Western Federation, Mr. Darrow said the action of Steunenberg in asking for United States troops to quell riots and the establishment of martial law in 1899, was unjustifiable and had properly stirred up intense feeling in labor circles against the Governor.

Mr. Darrow's argument, unfinished tonight, developed into an appeal for labor as against capital and a denunciation of all opposition to labor unions. He held an audience startled and open mouthed as one after of the sentiments poured from his lips. His attack on Orchard was anticipated and in this respect he fulfilled and surpassed the limit of expectation Three hours were given to Orchard and it was only when vituperation, physical force and words were spent that Darrow turned to James H. Hawley, the leading counsel for the State, and the Pinkerton detectives for something on which to pour the lesser volume of abuse. The State of Idaho came in for a large share of Darrow's denunciation for the part it has played in the prosecution. Culture, education, the constitution, the Supreme Court and wealth—each in turn was described as constituting a part of a combination against the workingmen.

Mr. Darrow sneered at universities.

"And what is a cultured man?" he exclaimed, "but a cruel tyrant always?"

Reaching the climax of sympathy for the working class and hatred for the rich, he assailed the constitution of the country and cried:

"The constitution! The constitution! It is here only to destroy the laws made for the benefit of t he poor."

Mr. Darrow's support of labor unions and of union men was passionate and his eulogy of the Western Federation eloquent. Lovingly, he touched on the beauty of self sacrifice found in the "struggle for humanity where only the workingman is found," while in the bitterest sarcasm his voice pitched in its highest note and his arms upheld, he heaped abuses on the selfish rich and upon the administration of the State of Idaho.

Mr. Darrow had begun a detailed review of the evidence in the case as court adjourned at 9 o'clock tonight until tomorrow morning.

No Relief in Sight For South and West Says Bureau in Washington, D. C.

'TIS SEIZZLING IN ATLANTA

Official Reading 98 Degrees There Yesterday—Two Prostrations and One Death in Savannah During the Day—Other Reports.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, July 24.—No relief is in sight for the south and west where almost unbearably hot weather has prevailed for the past few days according to the forecaster of the Weather Bureau. The only change in the weather situation today was that the hot wave extended a little further to the east. Showers in some portions to the north of here brought some relief, but it is stated that this condition will be of short duration.

The maximum temperature recorded at the Weather Bureau today was 91, while down town thermometers registered 97 1-2, which is within half a degree of the highest temperature recorded this season.

Atlanta, Ga., July 24.—The government thermometer in Atlanta registered 98 degrees since shortly after noon today, breaking all local heat records since July 19th, 1887 when the hundred degree mark was reached. No prostrations have been reported to the police.

Savannah, Ga., July 24.—After several hours work on the wharves John P. Hughes, a native of Scotland, died from heat prostration today. G. W. Hayes, a carpenter was overcome by heat and fell from a scaffolding and broke several ribs. His condition is critical. The thermometer registered at its height 96 degrees.

THE NEW YORK TRAGEDY.

Second Victim to List of Killed By Crazy Merchant.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, July 24.—Almost at the moment that his second victim breathed his last, Frank Warner tonight awoke to consciousness and realized his tragic acts of yesterday.

Down on his luck and, perhaps, temporarily insane, Warner, formerly a prosperous hatter, shot and killed Esther Norling, who once had been his bookkeeper, and after a wild flight from the police, fired a bullet into the back of his intimate friend, John C. Wilson, a wealthy hatter.

Wilson died at St. Vincent hospital tonight, and as the news of his death reached Bellevue Hospital, where Warner is a prisoner, the latter regained his senses. Warner was knocked down and badly injured by the crowd that captured him, and he had since been in a comatose state.

Tonight he replied to brief inquiries, but the physicians in charge did not wish to have him questioned at length. The District Attorney's office was notified, however, that Warner might be able to talk later tonight. His condition remains critical, but because of his wonderful vitality, it is beleved that he may recover. It has been found that there is no fracture of the skull as at first believed. Concussion of the brain, severe shock and slight internal injuries are the ailments with which the prisoner has to contend.

As a resulnt of an investigation into the conduct of the policemen who failed to arrest Warner after he had killed Miss Norling, Police Commissioner Bingham today suspended Policemen Steven S. Walsh and Tracey L. Rossa. According to the report on which the commissioner acted Walsh stood twenty minutes in the office building in which the assassin took refuge, without making a move to capture Warner, while Rossa failed to pursue and arrest him. Both men will be placed on trial next Thursday.

Glidden for touring qualities displayed by the automobiles ended in Jersey City at noon today. About 50 cars out of the original 100 starters finished, twenty of them with scores approximately perfect. It was stated unofficially that the Buffalo Automobile Club, of Buffalo, N. Y., won the Glidden trophy. The contest between runabouts, driven by H. K. Sheridan of Cleveland and C. S. Smith of Philadelphia, for the Hower trophy was so close that they have to have another contest..

SPRUNG SURPRISE IN MONROE TRIAL

Threatening Letter Received By Sheriff Bogan From Anson County Lynchers.

PLACED IN EVIDENCE

Sheriff Bogan Positively Identified Zeke Lewis As One of Men Who Hung J. V. Johnson Near Wadesboro Last Year.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Charlotte, N. C., July 24.—The State sprung a surprise on the defense in the trial of Zeke Lewis, in Union county, today when, offering rebuttal testimony, counsel produced a letter received by Sheriff Bogan, of Anson county, threatening him with summary vengeance if he testified against any member of the mob at the trial. The latter was received May 28, and was signed "The Crowd that Lynched J. V. Johnson," and threatened the sheriff with death if he told the names of any man he recognized at the jail. The letter stated that there were 342 men in the mob and though there might be some fools among them, at least 275 were settled men who knew what they were talking about and would do as they said. The defense hotly objected to the admission of this letter but the court admitted it for the jury to consider as bearing on the conduct and evidence of Sheriff Bogan and it was read to the jury and put in evidence.

Sheriff Bogan was re-called and swore positively to his identification of Lewis as the ring leader of the mob declaring that he talked to him twice the night of the lynching in the jail and had known him for years. Lewis, he said, was not disguised and there could be no mistake in identity. The State here rested and the argument began. The case will go to the jury tomorrow.

THE ARMENIAN PLOT.

District Attorney's Office Receives Letters Suggesting Blackmail.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, July 24.—The District Attorney's office obtained today a number of letters in conection with the murder of the rug merchant H. S. Tavshanjian, which showed that for several months there have been communications sent to rich Armenian merchants in this city demanding that amounts of money be sent to the Hunchakist Society on pain of death. The letters confirm the reports of a widespread conspiracy to get money, and which the District Attorney thinks is alarming.

One of the Armenians who has been greatly frightened by the letter of the Hunchakists is Armen P. Aleon, a rug importer. He received a letter in March demanding that $10,000 be paid to the Hunchakists at once if he wished to escape the fate of his father.

Aleon's father, about three years before, had gone on a trip to Persia. On the journey he was held up. The son does not know whether the brigands got any money from the father, for when the latter returned to America he was a raving maniac, and died within a month without being able to tell anything about his experience.

Police Commissioner Bingham stated today that for a long time he had known of Armenians who were blackmailing rich merchants.

"An Armenian friend of mine, a graduate of Yale, has told me a good deal about the rascality of the Armenians," he said.

"It only bears out my request that a fund of at least $10,000 should be given the ploice commissioner for secret service work, so that men can be hired to go among the foreigners in disguise and get evidence."

The coroner's jury today returned a verdict holding Bedros Hampartzoomian, who killed Tavshanjian, on a charge of homicide. Later the grand jury indicted Hampartzoomian for murder in the first degree.

JAPS AND AMERICANS.

Big Warships Arrive at Brest and Salute Each Other.

(By Cable to the Morning Star.)

Brest, July 24.—The Japanese cruisers Tsukiuba and Chitose, under the command of Vice Admiral Sir Ger Ijuin, arrived in this harbor today. While entering the harbor the visiting warships saluted the forts with 21 guns, and as they swung around to drop anchor near the American cruisers Washington and Tennessee the latter flagship of Rear Admiral Charles H. Stockton, saluted the Japanese division with 15 guns which was returned gun for gun. The crews of the Japanese cruisers are to be kept on board until further orders and the American bluejackets also have been denied shore leave. Rear Admiral Stockton explains that this restriction is customary on the day before warships leave port.

Vice Admiral Ijuin and his staff will leave here for Paris tonight. They will be escorted by Lieutenant Champobeau of the French navy.

The French and some of the Japanese officers were the guests of Rear Admiral Stockton on the cruiser Washington tonight.

TEST IMMIGRATION LAWS.

Representative of Louisiana to Take Matter up at Once.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New Orleans, July 24.—Louisiana will make a test of the Federal immigration laws so far as they involve the rights of a State to promote immigration and to furnish the means by which immigrants are enabled to make the passage to this country. R. R. Dykers, immigration agent of the Louisiana State Board of Agriculture, left today for Cuba for the purpose of advancing money to inhabitants of the island who are willing to come to Louisiana to make their homes. An amicable understanding has been made with the Federal authorities at this port and it is believed the case will be carried into the courts immediately and a test case made.

The case is attracting the attention of leading railroad and State officials who declare that on this proposed test will hinge one of the principal problems of the South.
